General Instructions

For taxable years beginning from and after December 31, 2006, through December 31, 2011, Arizona law provides a credit for an individual who installs a water conservation system in his or her residence located in Arizona.

To claim this credit, you must have received a credit certification from the department that indicates you are entitled to claim the credit and the amount of credit that you are eligible to claim. You must attach a copy of the credit certification to your tax return.

If the allowable tax credit is more than your tax or if you have no tax, you may carry the unused credit forward for up to the next 5 consecutive tax years.

To be eligible for this credit, you must be an Arizona resident who is not a dependent of another taxpayer.

This credit is available to individuals only.

How to Apply for a Credit Certification

To claim this credit, you must make an application to the Arizona Department of Revenue on the department's form titled Application for Individual Income Tax Credit for Installation of a Water Conservation System. To obtain a copy of the of the application form, or for more information about the credit, visit our web site at www.azdor.gov.

You may make an application only after the actual purchase and installation of the system. You must attach a copy of the receipt for the purchase and installation of the system. The receipt must show the date of the installation. The department may verify that a water conservation system has been installed in your residence.

After reviewing your application, the department will determine whether you are eligible for the credit. If you are eligible for the credit, the department will send you a credit certification that will indicate the amount of credit you may claim. You must attach a copy of the credit certification form to your individual income tax return when you file.

The water conservation system credit for installing a water conservation system is 25% of the cost of the system, or $1,000. If you install another system in a later year, the cumulative credit cannot exceed $1,000 for the same residence.

The department must certify the amount for all water conservation system credits allowable for the calendar year. The maximum amount of water conservation system credits that the department can certify in a calendar year is $250,000. Credits will be granted on a first come, first serve basis. If an application is received that, if authorized, would require the department to exceed $250,000, the department will grant that applicant only the remaining credit amount that would not exceed the $250,000 limit.

What is a Water Conservation System

A water conservation system is a system or series of components or mechanisms that are designed to provide for the collection of rainwater or residential graywater. A water conservation system includes a system that is capable of storing rainwater or residential graywater for future use and reusing the collected water for the same residential property. To qualify for the credit, a residential graywater system and its installation must comply with rules adopted by the Arizona Department of Environmental Quality that relate to the recovery and disposal of graywater.
