

2020 Form 140PY Schedule A(PYN) Itemized Deductions

For Part-Year Residents who also had Arizona source income during the part of the year while an Arizona nonresident.

Before you complete Arizona Form 140PY Schedule A(PYN), you must complete a federal Form 1040 Schedule A.

You may itemize your deductions on your Arizona return even if you do not itemize deductions on your federal return. For the most part, you can deduct those items that are allowable itemized deductions under the Internal Revenue Code (IRC).

Even if you don't itemize deductions on your federal return, you must complete and include a copy of the federal Form 1040 Schedule A, with this form.

A part-year resident who also has Arizona source income during the part of the year while an Arizona nonresident can deduct all of the following:

- Those expenses incurred and paid during the part of the year while an Arizona resident.
- Arizona source itemized deductions incurred and paid during the part of the year while a nonresident.
- A portion of all other itemized deductions paid during the part of the year while a nonresident.

For more information, see the department's ruling, ITR 94-10, Part-Year Resident Deductions, at www.azdor.gov.

General Instructions

Arizona is a community property state. If you are married filing a separate return and claiming itemized deductions, see the department's Income Tax Ruling, ITR 93-19, Deductions, Exemptions, and Credits for Married Taxpayers who file Separate Returns, for more information claiming itemized deductions.

When married taxpayers file separate Arizona income tax returns, both filers must either claim the standard deduction or itemize deductions. One spouse may not claim a standard deduction when the other spouse itemizes deductions. If this situation does occur, the standard deduction will be disallowed regardless of which return may have been filed first.

The treatment of itemized deductions by spouses who file separate returns depends on whether the deductible expenses were paid with community funds or with separate funds. If the expenses were paid with community funds, the deduction is divided equally between each spouse. Expenses paid with separate funds are deductible by the spouse who paid the expenses. Under no circumstances may more than 100 percent of the allowable deductions be claimed.

NOTE: If you or your spouse claim 100% of the allowable itemized deductions, the other spouse must enter "0" on Form 140PY, line 53, and that spouse cannot claim an adjustment for either itemized deductions or the standard deduction.

In some cases, the itemized deductions allowed on your Arizona return are not the same as those allowable under the IRC. The itemized deductions allowed on your Arizona return can differ from your federal return.

You must complete Schedule A(PYN) if you are a part-year resident claiming itemized deductions and you had any Arizona source income during the part of the year when you were a non-resident. If you are a part-year resident claiming itemized deductions who did not have Arizona source income during the part of the year when you were a non-resident you must complete Schedule A(PY) instead.
